COLORADO FLYFISHING

3 Day/4 Night - $1,800

Because of the setting, this outfitter is virtually unaffected by spring runoff in the Rocky Mountains, giving them one of the longest fishing seasons anywhere in Colorado. They fish from late March into November every year. The waters teem with large, strong trout that will satisfy nearly every angler from novice to expert. Browns, rainbows, cutthroats, brooks and cutbows can turn an ordinary day of fishing into an epic outing.

Close to the main lodge and dining area, the eight-bedroom guest house provides a spacious retreat for up to 18 guests. It's equipped with a kitchen, breakfast room, screened reading porch, great room and large open recreation room with an antique gaming table, flat-screen satellite TV, DVD player, WIFI, a stone fireplace and pool table.

Package includes lodging, meals, guided fly-fishing, flies, accessories and terminal tackle. Rates are per person and based on double occupancy. This package is a combination of fishing at the ranch located northeast of Grand Junction, the White River and Spring Creeks at the K-T Ranch, float-fishing on the Roaring Fork and the Colorado, and other walk-and-wade streams and rivers. Licenses sold separately.
