The whitetail hunting area consists of about 275,000 acres of forest, rivers, lakes, meadows, flood plains, hydro lines and logged-over areas which provide excellent habitat.

This outfitter has many different kinds of stands to accommodate hunters of all ages. Baiting is allowed in Saskatchewan and most stands are over baits. However, if you do not like to hunt over baits they can accommodate you as well.

The camp consists of two remote cabins, one is the kitchen eating area and guide quarters and the other is sleeping quarters for hunters. There is running water and indoor plumbing and power is provided with a diesel generator.

Includes cabin accommodations, meals at camp as well as packed lunches, 2x1 guide service, reliable 4x4's and ATV's to get to and from your stand, baited and natural stand sites and field dressing and skinning.

Not Included: Deer License: $280, Habitat Fee: $11, Allocation Fee: $75 (CDN)
